Set a guard over our priests, O Lord.

Watch over them day and night.

Keep evildoers far from them.

Protect them everywhere and always. Amen.

Pope Leo is in Turkey to commemorate the 1700th anniversary of the Council of Nicaea, the source of the Nicene Creed we say every Sunday. The Council of Nicaea was the first Council in the history of the Church and was convened specifically to define the true divinity of Jesus Christ, a doctrine that was contested by the Arians who held that Jesus was created by God and therefore subordinate to Him.

More violence in Nigeria

Perhaps the West is finally acknowledging the persecution of Christians in Nigeria. The world was stunned when it heard of the kidnapping of 300 Catholic students from their boarding school a week ago. Fifty students have managed to escape, but the fate of the rest is unknown. This violence is not new. Boko Haram, one of the Nigerian terrorist groups, kidnapped 300 students in 2014, eleven years ago. Little was heard then and little has ever been done by the Nigerian government to end the violence. Let us keep these children and their families in our prayers. Breitbart
